rustic cork tiles

Woody doesn't do things in half measures. He's bold in his resolve to make the world a better place. But don't be afraid, he's really a gentle giant. This is a rustic wall tile with an earthy design, ideal for unique spaces - and it significantly contributes to the acoustic and thermal performance of buildings. Being a plant based product, this is a completely sustainable and environmentally friendly solution.

Available in 8 warm colours and made from a natural, renewable cork.
